Post Cemetery, Fort No^e Pherson, Nebraska

Description

One half ($\frac{1}{2}$) mile south west of Fort No^e Pherson, Nebraska, on the summit of the bluffs, and one (1) mile from the Platte River

Commenced in March 1867, by Messrs Avery and Slocum, contractors for the removal of the dead from the ground formerly used as a cemetery to the one now in use; the bodies are buried in rows and a separate spot set aside for citizens.

Located on government land, containing one half ($\frac{1}{2}$) an acre, enclosed by a board fence, the land is high and flat, the fence has a large gate and lock. The bodies buried have headboards, with name, rank, company, regiment, age and death of each as shown in this statement

There are no walks laid out, no flagstaff, no trees, or shrubbery.

Post Cemetery, Fort Fred Steele, Wyoming, T. Y.

Description

Size 140 x 100 feet, Enclosed by a picket fence. Soldiers graves marked by pine head boards — Cost of improvements $400⁰⁰ — The ground has never been laid off into lots or sections, and graves are somewhat irregular. I have numbered the graves calling the one on the south end of the front or West row No 1. the next 2. and so on to end one which is 25, and then began on the north end of next tier and counted back, numbers of graves will be indicated by stout pegs, with number painted on them, driven into the ground as foot boards. The location of the grave of Wm C Yeakle, Corp. "G" 30th Inf., died Jan'y 27th - 1869, is reported amongst the unknown but is supposed to be # 18. The others marked unknown are of citizens, no record of their interment having been kept heretofore.
