Sir: I have the honor to enclose an advertisement and to respectfully request that you have it inserted for one week in one or two good german papers and one english paper one week in each in the city of Chicago, sending the bill to my address. You will please guarantee to at least five good musicians, if they should present themselves to you, extra pay of ten dollars per month and the privilege of making private engagements, where it will not interfere with their military duties, (once a week in the evenings, I mean to play at parties in Omaha) that I find has been the custom in some Regiments where stationed near cities. General Bradley desires me to thank you for your kind attention in affording information, relating to the subject of organizing a band.

Sir: I have the honor to transmit herewith General Order No 5 from these Headquarters, assigning 2nd Lieut Henry A. Ingers 27th Infantry, Co. Company E the Regiment. For the approval of the Secretary of War, and in explanation have the honor to make the following remarks: Lieut Ingers was appointed to this Regiment, via highest promotion, which carried him to Company D, but the vacancy having previously to Lieut Ingers joining the Regiment and the exigencies of the service requiring it, been filled by the transfer of 2nd Lieut James M. B. Stewart, 27th Inftry, from Company E to Company D which has the approval of the Secretary of War, Lieut Ingers necessarily should fill the vacancy occasioned by the transfer of Lieut Stewart. It was not deemed advisable to pursue the usual course in to assign Lieut Ingers to Company D and then transfer him to Company E for there is at present, no vacancy in Company F justifying the assignment.

Sir: I forwarded to your house today, several instruments purchased of you some time since by General Bradley, for the Regimental Band of this Regiment, as it was the understanding that you would exchange any instruments found defective, I have to request that you return similar instruments in perfect condition, without delay. E^b Clarinet is defective as follows: key too short, screws instead of bolts prepared for the keys, some notes false.

E^b Cornet defective as follows: Not clear, metal too thick in the bell, B^b Clarinet does not correspond in finish and otherwise to the other instruments of the same class, it is desired that another B^b Clarinet be sent in its place.

Gentlemen:
I have to inform you, that to-day, while the band leader was practicing with one of the B^b Clarinets, purchased of your house, it very suddenly cracked and is rendered useless. Another B^b clarinet received from you, when it came to be used, has proved to be too sharp. As it was understood that these instruments were warranted for, at least, our year, I am directed to return to you both of these clarinets (in addition to those heretofore forwarded by express,) and to request that faultless ones be forwarded in their place.
